Key Information

Delivery Period

For 'In Stock Items' (items starting with code ISI) our processing time is 7-10 working days. Made to Order (MTO) items are manufactured to order and is normally dispatched within 6- 8 weeks. Please allow for additional 5-7 days for the branding/embroidery of items, where applicable. We unfortunately cannot expedite orders. Note that confirmed orders are processed in date order, not according to order size. Depending on the size of our production queue, and especially during peak periods (July to December) delivery periods may be extended.

Occasionally an *ISI item or a specific fabric may be temporarily out of stock. We will notify you of the situation and provide the option of selecting a substitute item or placing it on back order. We will give you an indication of when you can expect to receive the goods.

Embroidery Service

We offer a high quality embroidery service, which allows you to personalise your uniforms to suit your individual needs. Using the best equipment, we can embroider your company logo for a reasonable cost. For this service and a free quotation, please provide us with a clear colour copy of your design in .jpg format.

Payment

Order confirmation deposit of 60% is payable on placement of the order and before the order is processed. The balance becomes due once the order is packed and ready for dispatch. We will inform you via email regarding the status of your order. Once the final payment reflects on our bank statement the merchandise is released for dispatch/collection. Key Information

Size Guide

*MTO garments are developed and produced in accordance with strict fit and quality guidelines. We strive to deliver great fitting garments with consistency in sizing. Please refer to our Size Guide to determine the correct sizes to order and to review tips for measuring. The majority of our ladies garments are offered in sizes 28-54. Sizes 28-42 are at the standard catalogue price. Sizes 44-54 are subject to size surcharges. All lengths specified are approximate and can vary slightly.

Alterations

Our business is the supply and bulk production of standard sized uniforms. We do not provide tailoring- or alteration services.

Cancellation / Amendment to Orders

All orders are processed immediately, which means that we are most of the time unable to amend or cancel orders once they have been received, so please do make sure you are happy with your order before placing it. If you require additional items, you can place a new order. Orders once delivered may not be cancelled and are non-refundable.

Packaging & Uniform Distribution

Uniforms are being delivered pre-packed per individual staff member and according to department for easy distribution. Parcels are labeled with employee's name, department and quantity garments ordered and packed. A delivery note accompanies all consignments which indicates the quantity of uniforms being delivered.

Garment Care

Most of our garments are hand- or machine washable. However to ensure a long garment life we do recommend that all lined jackets and sleeveless jackets be professionally dry-cleaned. All garments are labelled with care instructions and includes a spare button. Additional buttons for *MTO items are available at minimal cost, remember to add these to your order.

Custom designed uniforms

While our catalogue product line is very extensive, we do at times receive requests for custom designed uniforms. In the event that we accept such a project, a minimum order amount applies. Over and above garment cost, the following charges will apply: storyboard costs, personalisation costs, design fees, pattern drafting fees and custom made sample cost. The client must be prepared to carry fabric stock to ensure availability for subsequent orders. We reserve the right to decline a request for custom designed uniforms.

How to place an order

We accept orders by fax or email. Orders can be summarised on an Excel spreadsheet and attached to your email. Your order should include the item code of the garments, colour, sizes and the quantity you wish to order. Please do not forget to include your company name, postal and delivery address, VAT- and contact numbers. For your convenience we have included in this catalogue Employee Measurements Sheets which will assist in establishing ordering sizes once staff members have been measured.

We do not offer online ordering at this time. Our uniforms are sold only to the end-user and may not be resold. In order to maintain direct contact with our clients we do not make use of sales agents or consultants. Our operations are based in Johannesburg from where we gladly assist with any enquiries.

Peak time production

As from August each year we receive high volume orders from large accounts for delivery prior to our annual December leave period. In order for us to plan our production and to execute orders received, any order received after the 3rd week in October will fall in queue for production in the new year. We therefore urge you to kindly place your orders timeously in order to avoid disappointment.

Measurement & Sizing Tips

How To Measure For The Right Size

- Ensure body measurements are taken over as few clothes as possible and that these garments do not seriously affect the body shape or interfere with the taking of accurate measurements.
- Do not make provision for the wearing ease of a garment.
- The measuring tape must be held firm.
- Ensure all pockets are emptied before measuring.
- Take the same measurement at least twice in order to confirm your original measurement - this is important!

FEMALE

1. Bust measurement - Wrap the tape around your back and bring it to the front, under the armpits to the fullest part of your bust. Your arms should be relaxed, hanging down at your sides. (fig 2a)
2. Natural waist measurement - This measurement should be taken around the smallest part of your torso, also known as the natural waistline. Typically, it is 3cm or so above your belly button. The abdomen must be relaxed when this measurement is taken. (fig 2b)
3. Abdomen measurement - This measurement is only needed when you have a protruding abdomen (tummy). Take this measurement approximately 7cm below the natural waistline. (fig 2c)
4. Hip measurement - is taken round the buttocks, approximately 18-23cm below the natural waistline. Stand with your feet together. (fig 2d)
5. High thigh - is measured around the widest part of the upper thigh. (fig 2e)

MALE

1. Neck measurement - The girth of the neck is measured by putting the tape measure around the neck at the base of the neck just below the Adam's apple. (fig 1a).
2. Chest measurement - put the tape measure around the chest, over the shoulder blades, under the armpits and across the front chest. It is easier to take this measurement from the back. (fig 1b)
3. Natural waist / abdomen (protruding tummy) - This measurement is different from the trouser measurement in that it should be taken at or just above the belly button. The abdomen must be relaxed when this measurement is taken. (fig 1c)
4. Trouser waist - is measured at the level you prefer to have your belt. This measurement is usually where the trouser waistband sits at the top of the hips. Measure around the exact level where you wear your belt. Hold the tape measure tight with one finger on the inside. (fig 1d)

Other measurements:

- Hats - Head measurement is taken around the widest part of the head above the ears.
- Belts - We recommend ordering one size larger than your waist size, for example if you have a 32 trouser, order a size 34 belt.
- Gloves - Measure around the knuckles where the fingers join the hand. Provide us with this measurement.

Measuring & Sizing Tips

Female

1. Female employees should wear the same brassiere which they would usually wear. Measuring over a padded brassiere will provide a larger measurement oppose to true bust measurement. The padded brassiere measurement will result in ordering one size larger and the garment may appear too big when wearing a non-padded brassiere.

2. In order to accommodate various shaped figures, ladies skirts and trousers are designed on hip measurement, not waist measurement. Confirmation of the correct size is when the garment fits comfortably over the hip area. When the skirt/trouser fits the hip but the waist is too large, it means the lady is pear-shaped and the garment needs to be altered at the waist - pear shaped women have slim waist and wider hips.
3. The hip measurement is not necessarily the widest part of the lower torso. For this reason it is vital to take the tummy-, hip- and high thigh measurement. The largest measurement of the three is to be used to determine correct ordering size for skirts and trousers. These measurements applies to plus size ladies in particular.
4. In order for ladies' trousers to fully cover and fit comfortably over the buttocks, we recommend ordering our trouser with elastic back (MTO/13/109F) which has been designed specifically for this purpose.
5. Ladies who's measurements indicate much larger hip size compared to bust size should order one size up to accommodate for the hip size, e.g. 34 bust size & 40 hip size should order size 36 blouse/jacket /dress (torso garments only).
6. We can accommodate longer or shorter sleeve- and trouser lengths for tall/short ladies - indicate 'Short' or 'Tall' when ordering (*MTO styles only).

Male

1. Shirt size - for formal shirts (when a tie is to be worn) the neck measurement determines the ordering size. For informal shirt the chest measurement determines ordering size. Where the person has a large protruding tummy, order according to this measurement oppose to chest measurement to ensure a comfortable fit.
2. Jackets and waistcoats - The chest and natural waist/ tummy measurements are essential to establish which level has the largest circumference - when the natural waist/tummy measurement is 5cm larger than the chest measurement this measurement instead of chest measurement is used to determine the correct ordering size for jackets and waistcoat.
3. Jackets - For a person with broad/wide shoulders, order one or two sizes larger than the size you would have selected based on chest size, e.g. chest measurement indicates you should order size 40, but due to broad shoulders size 42 will provide a more suitable fit.

4. What size are suit trousers? The difference between jacket and trouser is 15cm (6 inches). For example if you are a 40 chest, you will receive a 34 trouser. When you are a 40 chest but wear a 36 trouser, we recommend ordering our Suit Separates.

5. To confirm that you have ordered the correct trouser size, use the following tips on men's sizing ratios:

- Average built: Chest size less 15cm (6 inches) = trouser measurement / trouser waistband measurement + 15cm (6 inches) = chest measurement, e.g. 38 jacket & waistcoat = 32 trouser size
- Portly built: Chest size less 10cm (4 inches) = trouser measurement / trouser waistband measurement + 10cm (4 inches) = chest measurement, e.g. 44 jacket & waistcoat = 38 trouser size
- Athletic: Chest size less 20cm (8 inches) = trouser measurement / trouser waistband measurement + 20cm (8 inches) = chest measurement, e.g. 42 jacket & waistcoat = 34 trouser size

General

- Once the measurements of each employee have been obtained, use the Size Guide to find the correct sizes.
- Bone structure and personal preference (close- or loose fitting garments) must be taken into consideration where a person is in-between two sizes.
- When unsure, order the larger size.
- All lengths specified in our catalogue are approximate and can vary slightly. The trouser length measurement is taken from the base of the waistband, along the outside of the leg to the hem. The skirt length measurement is taken from the base of the waistband to the finished hem.
- Our garments have been designed to accommodate most figures. Despite our best efforts a disproportionate figure's uniform might need minor adjustments to ensure a suitable fit. Ask your in-house seamstress or professional alteration service to assist.
